

Summer Studio in Classical Architecture 2024 Application Form

The final deadline for submissions for the 2024 program is Monday, February 26th, 2024.

ADMISSIONS CRITERIA

Applicants to the Summer Studio in Classical Architecture (SSCA) are evaluated in three areas. The admissions committee looks for the following:

1. The personal statement should describe your interest in classical architecture as a contemporary design discipline and your motivation for participating in the program. If you are presently enrolled in an architecture or related design program, the statement should describe how you anticipate the SSCA will complement your ongoing academic studies and support your longer-term professional objectives. If your academic preparation is in an area other than design, it is important to incorporate into the statement what connections you see that bridge your current studies and professional pursuits with classical architecture.
2. Letters of reference are an opportunity to have faculty and professional contacts illuminate your experiences, strengths and goals as they relate to participation in the program. It is essential that your reference letter is from a current or former faculty member.
3. The purpose of the portfolio is to demonstrate your level of development through a variety of media and skills. The admissions committee recognizes that the purpose of the SSCA is to introduce classical architectural design and presumes most students have little to no experience in this area of design practice. The reviewers hope to see projects and other examples of completed work displayed in a concise format, carefully executed.

If your academic background is in design, your work examples should indicate an understanding of basic architectural concepts, graphic techniques and conventions. If your academic background is in a field other than architecture, the work may be non-architecture related.

Work may include sketches and drawings in any media. All work should be the student's own. The student's individual contribution to any group or professional design project should be clearly delineated. All projects should include titles, the dates that the work was completed, the course title, and whether the work was done for academic, professional, or personal purposes.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS CHECKLIST:

- Completed Application Form (see page 2)
- A brief personal statement describing your interest in the program and how the program will support your academic and professional goals
- Examples of your work: suggested 3-4 images submitted as PDFs
- Resume or Curriculum Vitae
- Letter of Recommendation
- Brief Biography (no more than one or two paragraphs)

All applicants will hear back via email within two weeks of the application deadline. Finalists will be asked to have an informal 15-minute conversation with lead instructors and education staff.

All materials, except for the letter of recommendation, are to be submitted together. The letter of recommendation may be submitted either separately by the recommender, or together with the other materials by the applicant. Applicants and recommenders should email all materials as PDFs to education@classicist.org. Hard copy applications will not be considered.
