No matter where you are, the Institute of Classical Architecture & Art (ICAA) offers courses, lectures, articles, and more, available at any time at classicist.org.

Each week, we will provide new online features that will offer a chance to deepen your knowledge of the classical language, explore destinations around the world, watch lectures and panel discussions, learn about the intersection of architecture, craftsmanship, landscape, and urbanism, and so much more.

We hope you enjoy the chance to turn your thoughts to things both historic and contemporary, academic and entertaining, and aesthetic and rigorous through the ICAA's ongoing online content.

Healthy Cities & Streets

with Kellen Krause

How does a city convey its meaning through notable buildings as well as those down the street? Which associations encourage a better life, and which inhibit?

Join Kellen Krause, architect at Historical Concepts in New York, for a presentation that takes a rigorous look at the elements that define how we live in cities in Healthy Cities & Streets.

Formality & Informality A Lecture with Landscape Designer Arne Maynard

What choices await the landscape designer when presented with an existing building—perhaps historic, perhaps newly built—and its surrounding terrain? How does one complement the architecture? Address an unflattering view from the approaching drive? Compose a thrilling transition from the formal to the informal?

There are few more qualified to explore these questions than landscape designer Arne Maynard, who here presents a detailed account of properties where he has worked, solutions he has found, and the challenges that a landscape designer is constantly called upon to solve. Part of the ICAA's archive of online lectures and educational courses.
