

ERIC LEICHTUNG

ericlei.org

@ericleiart

Eric Leichtung is an award winning painter from Queens, New York. From a young age, he would voraciously draw and was introduced to painting in high school. He attended the Rhode Island School of Design where he received a BFA in Illustration, and has studied at the Grand Central Atelier under Jacob Collins. He is a recipient of the Hudson River Fellowship. He has exhibited work across the East Coast, and his work is included in numerous private collections across the United States.