

KEVIN MULLER CISNEROS

Kevin Muller Cisneros and his family immigrated to the US from their native Peru in the year 2003. They settled in Fairfax, Virginia, relatively close to the National Gallery in Washington D.C., a museum where Kevin would spend time visiting through much of his youth. As a senior in high school he was awarded the National American Visions Medal from the Alliance for Young Artists and Writers. In 2013, he moved to New York to study at Grand Central Atelier. Upon completion in 2017, he became an instructor and began working in the studio of renowned painter and founder of the GCA, Jacob Collins. Kevin has been a recipient of the Morris and Alma Schapiro Fund Scholarship, the Anders Larson-Toich Fund Scholarship, and the GCA Structure Prix. Kevin teaches painting in GCA's Core Program and has traveled internationally to instruct workshops. Currently, he lives and works in Brooklyn, NY.
