@luca.golightly

Luca Keefer is a commercial interior designer and fine artist currently based in New York City. Beginning at a young age, he was encouraged to express himself through various visual mediums and was never without his sketchbook. By the age of six, he was attending extracurricular art classes where he developed an affinity for pen and ink drawing as well as watercolor and gouache paints.

In 2014 Luca enrolled in Parsons School of Design in New York City, where he received his BFA in Architectural Design. While in school, he was able to more precisely tie his talents to representations of the built environment, often hand drafting and rendering his projects. This period of highly imaginative exploration allowed him to expand his artistic knowledge to encompass printmaking, traditional illustration techniques and graphic design.

In the years since the pandemic, Luca began to delve into the world of classical architecture, finding immense inspiration and awe at the works of classical masters like Piranesi, Gustave Dore and Caneletto. He often turns to his growing personal library of books before beginning an artwork. Most recently, he pursued the delights of the analytique rendu, enjoying the free interpretation of architectural wonder and capturing of the spirit of place through a purely artistic lens.
