

YI HUANG

@studio.yih

Yi Huang is a practicing architect in New York and a Senior Associate with Kligerman Architecture & Design, where he has been for the past 11 years. A graduate of the Notre Dame School of Architecture, Yi draws from his classical background and brings a painterly approach to the projects that he manages. In his spare time and on his travels, he continues the practice of plein air watercolor and sketching. Yi resides in Stamford, Connecticut with his wife and two cats.